

Workshops for Stewardship Event

1. PCUSA Mission and Your Church – Rose Mitchell, Presbyterian Mission Agency

Learn how congregations can partner with PCUSA mission resources, programs, and personnel for meaningful and engaged mission participation and support.

2. Rethinking Stewardship Season – Rhonda Myers, Pastor, Chapel Lane Presbyterian Church, Midland

Participants will be invited to rethink how narrative budgets and other approaches can stimulate mission awareness and energize congregations beyond “funding the budget.”

3. Introducing Electronic Giving – Olanda Carr, Ministry Relations Officer for the Presbyterian Foundation

Direct deposit? Smart phones? Credit cards? Discover how to integrate various forms of e-giving to encourage faithful giving in an increasingly cashless and check-less society.

4. Jesus and Money: A 21st Century Reading – Doug Abel, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Vassar

Take a modern look at Jesus’ teachings about money and stewardship as they apply to our consumer society and to developing generous disciples.

5. Planned Giving: How It Can Work for You and Your Church – Stephen Keizer, Presbyterian Foundation

Planned giving and legacy stewardship are ways to maximize your giving potential while still providing for the needs of you and your loved ones. Learn how this can support and expand your church’s mission.

6. Planning for Year-round Stewardship Awareness – Kathleen Rowe, Pastor, Tawas Area Presbyterian Church

Explore how a year-round attention to stewardship themes and opportunities can build a culture of generosity in your congregation, and reduce the drudgery of “that time of year.”

7. Stewardship Strategies for the Small Church – Chris Wolf, Pastor First and Second Presbyterian Churches, Marlette

Small, family-size congregations require different approaches to stewardship than the program-size churches that most resources target. Gain insights and ideas as to what might work in your church.

8. “Velcro” Mission: Empowering Missional Stewardship – Dan Saperstein, Executive Presbyter, Presbytery of Lake Huron

“Velcro” mission invites and engages people and their gifts of time, talent, and treasure in meaningful, life-changing interactions. “Teflon” mission leaves the giver (and the church) unchanged. Learn how to implement “Velcro” mission to build faithful, effective congregations.
